NEW QUESTION: 1

You have an Exchange Server 2013 organization that contains two servers named EX1 and EX2.

EX1 and EX2 are the members of a database availability group (DAG) named DAG1.

EX1 and EX2 each contain a copy of a mailbox database named DB1. DB1 is configured to retain deleted items for 120 days. At the end of each month, the mailbox databases on EX1 are backed up to tape. The monthly backups are retained for two years.

A user named User1 has a mailbox in DB1.

User1 discovers that a mailbox folder that contained important email messages was deleted more than six months ago.

You need to recover the deleted mailbox folder without affecting any other users who have mailboxes in DB1.

Which three actions should you perform? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose three.)

A. Restore DB1 from the tape backup to an alternate location.

B. Restore DB1 from the tape backup to the database's original location.

C. Run the New-Mailbox cmdlet and specify the Recovery parameter.

D. Run the New-MailboxDatabase cmdlet and specify the Recovery parameter.

E. Run the New-MailboxRestoreRequest cmdlet.

Answer: A,D,E

Explanation:

Recovery Database

A recovery database is a special kind of mailbox database that allows you to mount a restored mailbox database and extract data from the restored database as part of a recovery operation. You can use the New-MailboxRestoreRequest cmdlet to extract data from a recovery database. After extraction, the data can be exported to a folder or merged into an existing mailbox. Recovery databases enable you to recover data from a backup or copy of a database without disturbing user access to current data.

A: Use the New-MailboxRestoreRequest cmdlet to restore a soft-deleted or disconnected mailbox. This cmdlet starts the process of moving content from the soft-deleted mailbox, disabled mailbox, or any mailbox in a recovery database into a connected primary or archive mailbox.

B: Use the New-MailboxDatabase cmdlet to create a mailbox database object in the database container in Active Directory.

NEW QUESTION: 2

An organization has an on-premises server that runs Windows Server 2003. The server hosts an IIS-based stateless web application that uses forms authentication. The application consists of classic Active Server Pages (ASP) pages and malevolent traffic from leaving the PC or its organization. For Windows customers and workers that don't have SMB shares, you can obstruct all inbound SMB traffic utilizing the Windows Defender Firewall to keep far off associations from malignant or bargained gadgets. In the Windows Defender Firewall, this incorporates the accompanying inbound principles.

You should also create a new blocking rule to override any other inbound firewall rules. Use the following suggested settings for any Windows clients or servers that do not host SMB Shares:

Name: Block all inbound SMB 445

Description: Blocks all inbound SMB TCP 445 traffic. Not to be applied to domain controllers or computers that host SMB shares.

Action: Block the connection

Programs: All

Remote Computers: Any

Protocol Type: TCP

Local Port: 445

Remote Port: Any

Profiles: All

Scope (Local IP Address): Any

Scope (Remote IP Address): Any

Edge Traversal: Block edge traversal

You must not globally block inbound SMB traffic to domain controllers or file servers. However, you can restrict access to them from trusted IP ranges and devices to lower their attack surface. They should also be restricted to Domain or Private firewall profiles and not allow Guest/Public traffic.
