NEW QUESTION: 1

A hotel chain has acquired a number of properties in the same geographic location. At present, customers wishing to locate available rooms are first presented with a list of hotels in the area. The customer selects the hotel, and then the individual hotel system is queried to determine room availability on the required dates. The marketing department has suggested a new approach in which the customer simply indicates the geographic area of interest and is given the availability for all rooms in the area. All communications between the systems in the proposed design will be implemented using SOAP over JMS. Which two new requirements should be considered by the architect? (Choose two.)

- A. The architect should specify a workflow system to orchestrate requests to the hotel system. User requests will take longer to finish and need to be able to recover and continue after a failover.
- B. The architect should specify retries of requests to the hotel chains that continue until all systems have responded.
- C. The architect should specify timeouts for requests to the hotel systems. In case of timeout a best effort list of available rooms will be returned.
- D. The architect should specify parallel requests to the hotel systems. Executing requests in sequence will be too slow.

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION: 2

You are developing an ASP.NET MVC application by using Visual Studio 2012.

The application throws and handles exceptions when it runs. You need to examine the state of the application when exceptions are thrown.

What should you do?

- A. From the Debug menu in Visual Studio 2012, select Exceptions. Enable the Thrown check box for Common Language Runtime Exceptions.
- B. From the DEBUG menu in Visual Studio 2012, select Attach to Process. Select the IIS process.
- C. From the Debug menu in Visual Studio 2012, select Exceptions. Disable the User-unhandled check box for Common Language Runtime Exceptions.
- D. From the TOOLS menu in Visual Studio 2012, click Customize. Click the Command tab and select Debug.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Configuring the debugger to break for first chance exceptions
To change when the debugger breaks, go to Debug->Exceptions...

When you first open this window you will see that there is a tree grid with one column and checkboxes.

* Break when Thrown. This includes a default list of exceptions known by the debugger, grouped by category.

Note: The possible exceptions that could break from this list is determined by the runtime you are debugging. For example, if you are using managed-only debugging then the debugger will never break for C++, Win32 Exceptions, etc. even if they are configured to break when thrown.

* Checkboxes. If you check the box for a category, then the debugger will break for all First Chance Exceptions while debugging. If you don't want to enable all First Chance Exceptions, you can find the specific exception types that you wish to configure by using the search box.
