Answer: C

Explanation:

You can configure the amount of time that an entry (the packet source MAC address and port that packet ingresses) remain in the MAC table. To configure the aging time for all MAC addresses, perform this task:

Command Purpose

Step 1

switch# configure
Enters configuration mode.

```
terminal
```

Step 2

switch(config)# mac- Specifies the time before an entry ages out address-table aging- and is discarded from the MAC address table. time seconds [vlan The range is from 0 to 1000000; the default is vlan_id] 300 seconds.
```

Entering the value 0 disables the MAC aging. If a VLAN is not specified, the aging specification applies to all VLANs. This example shows how to set the aging time for entries in the MAC address table to 600 seconds (10 minutes):

switch# configure terminal switch(config)# mac-address-table aging-time 600
```

NEW QUESTION: 2

What is web identity federation?

- A. Use STS service to create an user on AWS which will allow them to login from facebook orgoogle app.
- B. Use of an identity provider like Google or Facebook to exchange for temporary AWS security credentials.
- C. Use of an identity provider like Google or Facebook to become an AWSIAM User.
- D. Use of AWS IAM Usertokens to log in as a Google or Facebook user.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

With web identity federation, you don't need to create custom sign-in code or manage your own user identities. Instead, users of your app can sign in using a well-known identity provider (IdP) -such as Login with Amazon, Facebook, Google, or any other OpenID Connect (OIDC)-compatible IdP, receive an authentication token, and then exchange that token for temporary security credentials in AWS that map to an IAM role with permissions to use the resources in your AWS account. Using an IdP helps you keep your AWS account secure, because you don't have to embed and distribute long-term security credentials with your application.
