Explanation:

Detailed Description
When an administrator makes a change of some kind to Lync Server (for example, when an administrator creates a new voice policy or changes the Address Book Server configuration settings) that change is recorded in the Central Management store.

In turn, the change must then be replicated to all the computers running Lync Server services or server roles.
In order to replicate data, the Master Replicator (running on the Central Management Server) creates a snapshot of the modified configuration data;
a copy of this snapshot is then sent to each computer running Lync Server services or server roles.
On those computers, a replication agent receives the snapshot and uploads the modified data;
the agent then sends the Master Replicator a message reporting the latest replication status.
The Get-CsManagementStoreReplicationStatus cmdlet enables you to verify the replication status for any (or all) of the Lync Server computers in your organization.
