NEW QUESTION: 2

You plan to create a workflow that has the following three activities:

CreateTask

OnTaskChanged

CompleteTask

You need to ensure that each time the workflow starts, the three activities are linked to a single task.

What should you do?

- A. Configure all activities to use the same correlation token.
- B. Create an SPItemEventReceiver event receiver for the SharePoint Tasks list.
- C. Create an SPWorkflowEventReceiver event receiver for the SharePoint Tasks list.
- D. Configure all activities to use the same TaskId.

Answer: A

Explanation:

MNEMONIC RULE: "Correlation token (to correlate one task with three activities)"

Each specific task within the workflow should have its own correlation token, which each related activity can use to access the same, task-specific information. For example, if in your workflow you want to reference the same task in CreateTask, CompleteTask, and OnTaskChanged activities, you would bind the CorrelationToken property of each of these activities to the same correlation token variable.
