NEW QUESTION: 1

Your network contains a production Active Directory forest named contoso.com and a test Active Directory forest named contoso.test. A trust relationship does not exist between the forests.

In the contoso.test domain, you create a backup of a Group Policy object (GPO) named GPO1.

You transfer the backup of GPO1 to a domain controller in the contoso.com domain. You need to create a GPO in contoso.com based on the settings of GPO1.

You must achieve this goal by using the minimum amount of administrative effort.

What should you do?

A. From Windows PowerShell, run the Get-GPOcmdlet and the Copy-GPOcmdlet.

- B. From Group Policy Management, right-click the Starter GPOs container, and then click Manage Backups.
- C. From Group Policy Management, create a new GPO. Right-click the new GPO, and then click Import Settings.
- D. From Windows PowerShell, run the New-GPOcmdlet and the Import-GPOcmdlet.
- E. From Group Policy Management, create a new starter GPO. Right-click the new starter GPO, and then click Restore from Backup.
- F. From Windows PowerShell, run the New-GPOcmdlet and the Restore-GPOcmdlet.
- G. From Windows PowerShell, run the Copy-GPOcmdlet and the Restore-GPOcmdlet.
- H. From Group Policy Management, right-click the Group Policy Objects container, and then click Manage Backups.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

The New-GPO cmdlet creates a new GPO with a specified name. By default, the newly created GPO is not linked to a site, domain, or organizational unit (OU).

The Import-GPO cmdlet imports the settings from a GPO backup into a specified target GPO. The target GPO can be in a different domain or forest than that from which the backup was made and it does not have to exist prior to the operation.

The Restore-GPO cmdlet restores a GPO backup to the original domain from which it was saved. If the original domain is not available, or if the GPO no longer exists in the domain, the cmdlet fails.
