NEW QUESTION: 3
HOTSPOT

Answer:
Explanation:

SSIS log provider: SQL Server
Event type: ExecutesSQLExecutingQuery
The following describes the custom log entry for the Execute SQL task: ExecuteSQLExecutingQuery provides information about the execution phases of the SQL statement. Log entries are written when the task acquires connection to the database, when the task starts to prepare the SQL statement, and after the execution of the SQL statement is completed. The log entry for the prepare phase includes the SQL statement that the task uses.
Note: You can log the calls that the Execute SQL task makes to external data providers. You can use this logging capability to troubleshoot the SQL commands that the Execute SQL task runs.

To log the calls that the Execute SQL task makes to external data providers, enable package logging and select the Diagnostic event at the package level.

NEW QUESTION: 4
You are getting a lot of empty receive requests when using Amazon SQS.
This is making a lot of unnecessary network load on your instances.
What can you do to reduce this load?
A. Use as long of a poll as possible, instead of short polls.
B. Alter your visibility timeout to be shorter.
C. Use <code>sqsd</code> on your EC2 instances.
D. Subscribe your queue to an SNS topic instead.
Answer: A
Explanation:
One benefit of long polling with Amazon SQS is the reduction of the number of empty responses, when there are no messages available to return, in reply to a ReceiveMessage request sent to an Amazon SQS queue. Long polling allows the Amazon SQS service to wait until a message is available in the queue before sending a response.
