NEW QUESTION: 1
You are performing a full state backup operation of the UCS. Which two data sets are protected? (Choose two)
A. Server backup data
B. Configuration XML
C. System configuration
D. Logical configuration
Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION: 2
This backup method must be made regardless of whether Differential or Incremental methods are used.
A. Tape backup method
B. Differential backup method
C. Full Backup Method
D. Incremental backup method
Answer: C
Explanation:
Since the "Full" backup method provides a baseline for our systems for
Restore, the full backup must be done at least once regardless of the method you are using. Its very common to use full backups in combination with incremental or differential ones to decrease the backup time (however you increment the restore time), but there is no way to maintain a system only with incremental or differential backups. You always need to begin from your restore baseline, the Full Backup.
