NEW QUESTION: 3

What command visualizes the general NetFlow data on the command line?

- A. show ip cache flow
- B. show ip flow top-talkers
- C. show ip flow export
- D. show mls sampling
- E. show mls netflow ip

Answer: A

Explanation:

The following is an example of how to visualize the NetFlow data using the CLI. There are three methods to visualize the data depending on the version of Cisco IOS Software. The traditional show command for NetFlow is "show ip cache flow" also available are two forms of top talker commands. One of the top talkers commands uses a static configuration to view top talkers in the network and another command called dynamic top talkers allows real-time sorting and aggregation of NetFlow data. Also shown is a show MLS command to view the hardware cache on the Cisco Catalyst 6500 Series Switch. The following is the original NetFlow show command used for many years in Cisco IOS Software. Information provided includes packet size distribution; basic statistics about number of flows and export timer setting, a view of the protocol distribution statistics and the NetFlow cache.

The "show ip cache flow" command displays a summary of the NetFlow accounting statistics.
