E. The physical standby database must have Real-Time Apply enabled.
Answer: A,E
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Explanation:
C: Flashback Database must be enabled on the target database for RMAN to search the flashback logs for good copies of corrupt blocks. You must have already enabled Flashback Database on the original primary database before the failover.
D: Block media recovery is a technique for restoring and recovering corrupt data blocks while data files are online. If only a few blocks are corrupt, then block media recovery may be preferable to data file media recovery. For automatic block media recovery to work, a physical standby database must be in real-time query mode, which requires an Oracle Active Data Guard license.

NEW QUESTION: 2
You design a Business Intelligence (BI) solution by using SQL Server 2008. You create a SQL Server 2008 Analysis Services (SSAS) solution. Your database has a table named DimCustomer that contains columns named FirstName and LastName. You belong only to the db_datareader role in the database. You have added DimCustomer to a data source view. You need to design a solution that includes the following requirements: -A column named FullName in DimCustomer by using the values from FirstName and Lastname -The data source view allows you to delete columns from DimCustomer

What should you do?
A. Redesign DimCustomer to have a computed column named FullName.
B. Implement a view in the database with FullName as a column expression. Replace DimCustomer with the view in the data source view.
C. Implement a named calculation for FullName in the data source view.
D. Replace DimCustomer with a named query in the data source view. Create FullName as a column expression in the named query.
