NEW QUESTION: 1

You assign resources to a project.

You need to define the scheduling requirements for the project. Which three actions are scheduling requirements? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose three.)

- A. Specifying the estimated hourly rate for the workers on the project
- B. Specifying the estimated number of worker hours required to complete the project
- C. Setting the start date and end date of the project
- D. Setting up the calendar to use for the workers on the project
- E. Specifying the type of calendar for the project

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:

Before you can use the resource scheduling feature and assign workers to projects, the following prerequisites must be met:

*The Project III license code must be enabled.

*Project parameters must be set up to define the minimum thresholds for how closely a worker's skills and availability should match the requirements for a project or activity. This must be done before the worker can be included in search results.

*(A) A worker must be assigned a calendar so that the worker's weekly capacity in hours can be specified.

To assign a calendar to a worker, use the following procedure.

1. Click Human resources > Common > Workers > Workers.
2. Select a worker, and then, on the Action Pane, in the Maintain group, click Edit.
3. In the Workerform, click the Employment link, and then, in the Calendar field, select a calendar.

*(E) Before scheduling can occur, the scheduling calendar and the total work effort (in hours) for the project or activity must be specified.

*The worker's education, skills, certifications, project experience, and other attributes must be specified.
