Which two of these statements about WCCP version 2 are false? (Choose two.)

- A. The Cache Engine defines one central "home router" and stores it in its memory.
- B. It allows for the redirection of traffic other than HTTP, including a variety of UDP and TCP traffic.
- C. Only one router can redirect content requests.
- D. Multiple routers can redirect content requests.
- E. It works only with IP networks.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

WCCP transparently redirects Hypertext Transfer Protocol (HTTP) requests going to the intended server to a Cache Engine. End users do not know that the page came from the Cache Engine rather than the originally requested web server.

WCCP Version 2 now contains the following new features:

Multiple router support

Improved security

Redirection of multiple TCP port-destined traffic

Load distributing applications capability

Client IP addressing transparency Multirouter Support: WCCP Version 2 enables a series of Cache Engines, called a Cache Engine cluster, to connect to multiple routers. This feature provides redundancy and a more distributed architecture for instances when a Cache Engine needs to connect to a large number of interfaces. This strategy also has the benefit of keeping all the Cache Engines in a single cluster, avoiding unnecessary duplication of web pages across several clusters.
