All client computers on the internal network are joined to the domain. Some users establish VPN connections to the network by using Windows computers that do not belong to the domain.

All client computers receive IP addresses by using DHCP.

Verify whether the client computers have up-to-date antivirus software.

Provides a warning to users who have virus definitions that are out-of-date.

Ensure that client computers that have out-of-date virus definitions can connect to the network.

Using DHCP enforcement, DHCP servers and NPS can enforce health policy when a computer attempts to lease or renew an IP version 4 (IPv4) address. However, if client computers are configured with a static IP address or are otherwise configured to circumvent the use of DHCP, this enforcement method is not effective.
