12.
public class FooBean implements Foo {
13.
14.
public void foo () {}

}
```

<interceptor-binding>
<ejb-name>FooBean</ejb-name>
<interceptor-order>
<interceptor.class>com.acme.AInt</interceptor-class>
</interceptor-order>
</interceptor.binding>

A. Option C
B. Option A
C. Option D
D. Option B
Answer: D
Explanation:
With the interceptor-order clauses Aint will be first in the order of interceptors.
Within each group (default, class, method) the order of the interceptors are from left to right as defined in the @Interceptors annotation, and then the xml interceptors.
In this scenario, with the @Intercaptors ({CInt.class, BInt.class}) line, the ordering continues with CInt and BInt.
Note 1: By default the ordering of interceptors when invoking a method are *External interceptors  Default interceptors, if present  Class interceptors, if present  Method interceptors, if present
*Bean class interceptor method Note 2: You can override the default sort order of the external interceptors by specifiying an interceptor-binding with an interceptor-order specifying the order of the interceptors
